

National Redress Scheme in Queensland

Feedback and Complaints: Direct Personal Response

We would like to hear from you

As a responsible institution participating in the National Redress Scheme, we wish to provide the best possible Direct Personal Response and service to you. We are interested in hearing and learning from you about your experience and how we can improve our service and response.

How can I provide feedback?

You can contact the Direct Personal Response Team by calling (07) 3097 5707 (Monday to Friday, 9am – 5pm, excluding public holidays) or via email

directpersonalresponse@cyjma.qld.gov.au

We welcome feedback from you about improvements we can make to the Direct Personal Response, with respect to:

- your experience
- our contact and communication with you
- the facilitation
- the response provided by the representative
- follow up support
- management of information and privacy
- any aspect of the Direct Personal Response process.

We are interested to hear from you about aspects of the Direct Personal Response or the service that you found helpful and wish to compliment, as well as what you may have found unhelpful.

How do I make a complaint?

If you have a complaint or are unsatisfied with our service, we do want to hear from you. We encourage you to start by raising your concerns with our Direct Personal Response team and the person you have been working with. Alternatively, you may prefer to raise your concern directly with the Direct Personal Response Practice Manager, by either calling (07) 3097 5707 or via email

directpersonalresponse@cyjma.qld.gov.au

What happens next?

We will listen to you and every effort will be made to resolve your complaint in a way that is satisfactory to you. You can expect the response to be prompt, fair and professional.

Some complaints are easily managed, others may require further investigation. We may need to request additional information from you to help us better understand the issue or concern. We will keep you informed throughout the process and you can check on its progress at any time.

We will let you know the outcome and any actions we have taken or will take. We are committed to learning from you and improving our service.

Can I take my complaint further?

If you are dissatisfied with how we have handled your complaint, or the outcome, you can request that the Director of the Redress Coordination/Secretariat Unit reviews the complaint and the outcome.

If following this review you are still dissatisfied, you can contact the department's Complaints Unit by emailing feedback@cyjma.qld.gov.au or phone (07) 3097 5201.

Finally, if you are still dissatisfied, you can request an external review by the Queensland Ombudsman.
