

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland.

Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Ashley Hood
Date	13-2-25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	C. Johnston
Date	13/2/25
Address
Email	NIC

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland.

Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature	JOEL M. JOSTIN.
Name	JOEL M. JOSTIN.
Date	13.02.25.
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Kearthana. Kateri
Date	13/2/25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	ASU KOCAR
Date	13/02/2025
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland.

Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Don Kennedy
Date	13/2/25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Keron Kiwa
Date	13/02/2025
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland.

Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Jordan Winstan
Date	13.2.25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Kitty Kunde
Date	13/2
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	KIRA LESSMOELMANN
Date	13/02/25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Oscar Lin
Date	13/2/25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	KIM LINSLEY
Date	13/2/25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1.The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2.The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3.The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4.The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5.The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, I believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. I therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Full Name	Andrea Lunt
Date	13/02/2025
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Walter Molie
Date	13.02.25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland.

Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Melanie Manrique
Date	13/02/2025
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Nikhilam Manoj
Date	13 th - Feb - 2025
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

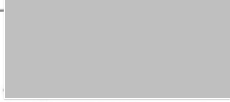

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Anna Lisa Matvejs
Date	13-02-25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Kent McMahon
Date	13/02/2025
Address
Email

From: Andrew & Kym McNamara
Sent: Thursday, 13 February 2025 2:43 PM
To: Heritage
Subject: RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

Follow Up Flag: Follow up
Flag Status: Flagged

Caution: this message came from outside of the organisation.

Be careful before clicking any link or attachment.

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1.The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2.The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3.The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4.The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5.The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Full Name	Kym McNamara
Date	13/2/2025
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1.The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2.The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3.The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4.The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5.The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Full Name	Suzan Mobbs [REDACTED]
Date	13 February 2025
Address	[REDACTED]
Email	[REDACTED]

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland.

Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Julia Moretti
Date	19.06.2000
Address
Email

From: neil nash [REDACTED]
Sent: Thursday, 13 February 2025 1:24 PM
To: Heritage
Subject: Victoria Park

Follow Up Flag: Follow up
Flag Status: Flagged

Caution: this message came from outside of the organisation.

You have not previously corresponded with this sender. Be careful clicking any link or attachment.

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1.The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2.The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3.The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4.The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5.The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Full Name	Neil Mackenzie Nash
Date	13/02/2025
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Alexandra Niner
Date	13/02/25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Elia Nulley
Date	13/2/25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Tiago Hugh Cornejo Ortiz
Date	13/02/2025
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Richard Owen-Prank
Date	13/02/25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Carolyn Phillips
Date	13/02/25
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Shirley PETER
Date	13-2-2025
Address
Email

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001 Or email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This is because it clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries
- municipal rubbish dump
- scientific experimentation
- campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds;
- significant involvement in World War II and
- the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of public architecture from this era.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

.....
Signed

CHRISTOPHER M PRICE

Name

.....
13-2-25

Date

Heritage Branch
Department of the Environment, Tourism, Science and Innovation
GPO Box 2454
BRISBANE QLD 4001

Email: heritage@des.qld.gov.au

RE - Queensland Heritage Register Number (QHR): 602493 Victoria Park (North)

I/We fully support the inclusion of Victoria Park [North] on the Queensland Heritage Register. This support is on the basis that the application clearly meets the following five criteria for cultural heritage recognition.

1. The place is important in demonstrating the evolution or pattern of Queensland's history.

Over the course of its history Victoria Park [North] functions have included

- social, cultural and sustenance grounds for Aboriginal people in the colonial period
- significant involvement in World War II and the subsequent utilisation of built assets constructed during the war to provide housing for individuals and families and then for medical research and economic development.
- brickmaking and timber-felling industries • scientific experimentation • campsites for displaced people
- sports and recreation grounds

2. The place has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of Queensland's history.

Victoria Park has the potential to contribute knowledge that will lead to a greater understanding of early urban material culture, consumption and disposal habits in Queensland, and early and evolved service infrastructure and occupation activities on the urban fringe.

3. The place is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a particular class of cultural places.

The Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse is a significant example of mid-20th century civic architecture in Queensland. Historically, it illustrates the growing emphasis on recreational spaces and community amenities in the post-war period. Architecturally, the clubhouse embodies the modernist design ethos of the 1970s, with its clean, functional forms and integration into the surrounding landscape, representing a notable example of this era's public architecture.

4. The place is important because of its aesthetic significance.

Victoria Park (North) is significant for its aesthetic attributes, derived from the juxtaposition of the place's natural qualities with its metropolitan setting, and from the aesthetic contribution of the 1975 former Victoria Park Golf Clubhouse.

5. The place has a strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group for social, cultural or spiritual reasons.

The entire Barrambin Victoria Park has a special association with the people of Brisbane as a popular inner-city park for organised sport and informal recreation (having served the community formally since 1875 as a valued green space for recreational purposes).

Also, we believe that Victoria Park should be one consolidated park with one level of heritage recognition. We therefore support the North and South Victoria Parks becoming one integrated listing on the Queensland Heritage Register.

Signature
Name	Devika Raj
Date	13.2.25
Address
Email	